

NEW Summer Reading Information & Tips:

Still having trouble finding articles on Flipster? Perhaps this information will help:

For the English article:

Read any article of your choice for English. It can be from any Flipster magazine and on any topic of interest. Choose an article that is a page long or more.

For the Math article:

Read an article that uses numbers or statistics to tell the story. It can be a sports statistics article or an article about the national budget , tariffs, taxes, or the economy, etc. as long as numbers drive the article. If you look in the computer magazines there are also articles about the best calculator apps.

For Religion:

Unfortunately, there has been less coverage on religious-related issues this summer. Get a copy of one of the summer issues of The Clarion, the newspaper of the Archdiocese, and read one of its featured religious articles. The Clarion can also be found online at <https://clarionherald.org>.

Completed reading logs must be turned into your respective Religion, Science, Math, and English teachers on the first full day of class (August 15) to receive credit. These reading logs are considered the first assignment of the course.
